Michael Beane joined Moore Ingram Johnson & Steele in 2015 and currently serves as a partner in the firm's Litigation Department. He spent the past six years practicing litigation and workers' compensation defense with a prominent Florida insurance defense firm. He works primarily out of the Jacksonville office but handles claims all throughout the state of Florida. He practices primarily in the area Workers' Compensation Defense and General Liability.

Mike received his B.A. with honors in Political Science from the University of Florida in 2004, where he graduated cum laude. He was elected to the prestigious Society of Phi Beta Kappa in 2004 for his outstanding academic achievement. He received his J.D. from Florida Coastal School of law in 2007, where he graduated cum laude. He was admitted to the Florida bar in 2008 and is admitted to practice before all state courts. Mike is also admitted to practice before the United States Federal Courts, Northern and Southern District of Florida. He is proud member of the Florida Bar Association and member of the Workers' Compensation Section of the Florida Bar. Mike continues to devote his legal career to defending the rights of Insurance Carriers, Adjusters, and Employers in the area of Workers Compensation Defense.

Mike lives in Jacksonville with his wife and two sons. He enjoys spending time with his family and friends, watching his son play soccer and cheering on the Florida Gators.
